Assistant Professor – Liberal Studies

Central Washington University's (Ellensburg, WA) College of Arts and Humanities seeks an Assistant Professor for a tenure-track position, with productive scholarship and service expectations in addition to teaching. The successful candidate will hold a PhD in one of our humanities disciplines (communications, English, history, philosophy, religious studies, and/or world languages and cultures), medical humanities, or interdisciplinary programs (Africana and Black Studies, Asian Studies, and Latino Latin American Studies), and demonstrate strong theoretical and broad methodological knowledge, including quantitative, qualitative, and/or rhetorical methods, and the ability to teach a variety of Liberal Studies courses. Applications from candidates who have experience working with students from diverse backgrounds are particularly welcome.

Candidates must possess:

- A Ph.D. in a humanities discipline, medical humanities, or related interdisciplinary field (degree to be conferred by September 15, 2020.)
- Demonstrated record of university level teaching experience (minimum 1 year).
- Demonstrated commitment to inclusivity and diversity.
- Willingness to teach a wide range of courses at all levels and modalities

Screening Date: Screening begins December 2, 2019 and will be open until filled.
