

TEXAS TECH UNIVERSITY
Department of English

Do you teach INSTRUCTIONAL DESIGN in technical communication?

If you teach instructional design, whether as a standalone course or a unit within a technical communication course, you may be qualified for a brief interview about your pedagogical methods and experience.

This IRB-approved study is interested in learning about the pedagogical objectives, approaches, and outcomes in instructional design lessons within tech comm.

If selected, you will be invited to a 30-minute, virtual 1-on-1 meeting to talk about your teaching strategies, primary pedagogical objectives, course materials, student learning outcomes, and other observations that you're willing to share.

Participants will receive a $30 giftcard upon completion of their interview.

If you are interested in this study, please contact Dr. Jason Tham at jason.tham@ttu.edu for scheduling information.

