

Travel to Baltimore

Airports

There are three major airports in the Baltimore/Washington, DC region: Ronald Reagan Washington National Airport (DCA), Washington Dulles International Airport (IAD) and Baltimore/Washington International Thurgood Marshall Airport (BWI). The closest airport is BWI but in case you are unable to fly directly into BWI, you may also fly into any of the other regional airports. IAD is the furthest away from the Baltimore area, then DCA. The distance between IAD and Vaughn Funeral Home is 63 miles. It is approx. 1 hr 19 mins via car without traffic, 3 hrs and 30 mins via public transit (during non-rush hr), and a $80 - $100 ride-share (Uber/Lyft) drive away. DCA to Vaughn is 51 miles, 1 hr w/o traffic, 2 hrs 16 min via public transit (non-rush hr), and $70 - $80 ride-share.. BWI to Vaughn is 17 miles, 30 min w/o traffic, 1 hr 30 mins public transit, $35 - $40 ride-share.

What to do after arrival

Travel by BUS

You can travel by Greyhound, Megabus, Wanda Coach, Bolt, Peter Pan etc. Make sure to check each company for their given stop in Baltimore as they don't all stop in or near the same places.

Travel by Train

Amtrak is an excellent solution for rail travel into Baltimore from major cities. Your best bet is to take the Amtrak into Baltimore Penn Station. The next best option is the BWI train stop. You can coordinate rides/rideshare from here.

Rideshare/Taxi/Rental

Once you get into the city via plane, bus, or train, you will need to figure out a way to get to your lodging. Given your arrival location, ubers/taxis will range anywhere between $20 - $60 one way. You can also rent a car from any of the airports

Arriving Late Night

Arriving late? Public transit becomes more difficult to navigate between 11 PM and 5 AM. Your best bet if your arrival is somewhere within this time frame is to rent a car, book ride-share, or in an extreme situation, reach out to our local Baltimore Church contact.
